

Business Leaders: Open career doors and let BPS101 students shape your future workforce

To help students connect their studies to the world today and be productive members of the workforce, Batavia Public School District 101 and the Batavia Chamber of Commerce have teamed up to bring professionals into the classroom and curriculum.

"We are looking to the Batavia Chamber of Commerce to help us provide career awareness, workforce development, authentic experiences, and real-world connections to students. Chamber members and other industry professionals can add so much value to our curriculum."

— Dr. Brad Newkirk, BPS101 Chief Academic Officer

Share your career knowledge

BPS101 is actively seeking individuals, including Batavia Chamber members, alumni, parents, and industry professionals, who are willing to support students and teachers in the following areas:

- Speak in a classroom about your professional journey
- Host field trips to your workplace to facilitate authentic learning experiences and conversations for students
- Host a student intern
- Participate in a career fair at Batavia High School or Rotolo Middle School
- Help teachers with a particular project as it relates to your industry, like providing supplies and/or expertise for a science project
